BASE-BALL AVERAGES

Season's Batting and Fielding Honors in Both Leagues.

YOUNG THE STAR PITCHER

The Veteran's Work Outshines that of All the Younger Wonders of the Pitcher's Box-Heavy Hitters, Fultz Premier Base Runner.

The batting averages of the National and American Leagues of base-ball clubs have been made up, and show that the pitchers of both leagues have been more effective than for many seasons. Indeed, not since the man with the ball was very close to the plate has the number of men with a better average than .300 been so small. In the National League Pitcher Kennedy, of Pittsburg, who only took part in eighteen games, leads the procession nedy, of Pittsburg, who only took part in eighteen games, leads the procession with the highest batting average of .362. Hans Wagner, of the Smoky City aggregation, is the real champion, however, having an average of .355 after playing in 125 games. Catcher Farreli, of the Boston American League team, lops the smashers of both leagues, with the remarkable average of .385, but he played in but seventeen games. Lajole, of the Cleveland team, is the real premier batter of this league, having an average of .354 for 125 games, just one point behind Wagner, the National League there are twenty men whose batting averages exceed.300, while in the American the are but twelve men in this exclusive class. Sixty-two National League batters made averages exceeding or up to .250, while in the American League, Donlin, of Cincinnat, comes next to Wagner, while Clarke, of Pittsburg, and Bresnahan, of New York are third and fourth, respectively, their averages being close to Wagner's in the American League, Crawford, of Detroit, is second: Dougherty, or Boston, third, and Young, of Boston, fourth.

In fielding only the American League averages are out. Howell, of New York, leads the twirlers in fielding their positions, having an average of 1.000, which means that he played his sixteen games without error. Jesse Tannehill is fourth with .500 average, and Jack Ches.ro eighth, with .500. Young, of Boston, pitched more games than any other American League twirler, handing them in to the batsmen in just thirty-nine games. Chesbro, Waddell and Sudhoff each pitched thirty-seven games. Jack O'Connor, of New York, leads the catchers in fielding; LaChance, of Boston, is the premier first baseman, According to averages; McCormick, of Washington, leads the second bagmen, and Collins, of Boston, the star third baseman, divides honors with Lawc Cross, of the Athletics. Moran, of Washington, leads the short stops, but only played in ninety-six games, whereas Parent, of Boston, who played in 133, is second. Jones, of Chicago; Ryan, of Washington, and Heidrick, of St. Louis, are the leading outleiders of those who played in more than 100 games.

siderable watery nuid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin around his wrists. He got so weak and run down that he took fainting spells like we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the day-time for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura and he was so soothed that I put him in the cradle. You don't know how glad I folt when he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Cintment, pretty near one cake of Cuticura Resolvent to cure. I think our little boy would have died only for the Cuticura Remedies, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them." Remedies, and a season firm friend of them."

Recently Rev. Charles E. Furman, of Brooklyn, N. Mr. Furman's work is that of a crayon evangelist. He does lightning chalk-work, on prepared boards, as he preaches the gospel. It is a most attractive and impressive plan of preaching, and brought to the mission the largest attendance ever known in religious meetings. Many league and Sunday-school workers received ideas that they are now putting into practice.

Keep Wine of Cardui in Your Home

No. 210 East Jacob Street, LOUISYILLE, Kr., April 8, 1903.

I am pleased to state that Wine of Cardui helped me through a severe siege of sickness and finally restored me to perfect health. I caught a severe oold which settled all over me and at the monthly period the flow was very scanty and painful and I had the most blinding headaches and mause and finally I had to take to my bed. One of my friends, on calling on me, told me how much Wine of Cardui had done for her, so I tried it and the results were all that I could desire, for I was able to be out in four weeks and feel in excellent health and am daily growing stronger and more robust.

I can therefore recommend it as a medicine of unusual merit and beneficial to women.

Wine of Cardui has been growing in popularity for over seventy-five years. There have been remedies for women sold but the greater number of them have been forgotten while Wine of Cardui has found its way into American homes and so com-

NEW WARDS OF THE CITY

Fight Over the Redistricting Scheme About Over.

HOW THE LINES ARE RUN

At Second Session of Council Recom mendation of Committee Goes Through Without a Single Amendment-Full Plan.

The Common Council met last night in special session and by a large majority adopted the plan of the Ordinance Committee for redistricting the city into wards, without the slightest amendment, though Messrs. Huber, Mills and Shea fought it hard. All efforts to amend failed and at 9 o'clock the paper was adopted. The plan is in the nature of a compromise and is known, as the Pollock Spence plan.

It will come up in the Board to-night and if adopted there will be signed by the Mayor.

The body was called to order at 8 clock by President Bloomberg, and the ordinance redistricting the city into wards was read by the clerk

Mr. Garber was the first to discuss the ordinance. He made no motion, but said he was sorry to give up so many of his constituents to Jefferson Ward. Mr. Mills constituents to Jefferson Ward. Mr. Mills spoke next, and he wanted the line made straight down Twenty-sixth Street, between Marshall and Jefferson Wards. He moved to amend the plan in this particular, and spoke in support of his amendment. Mr. Bottoms, of the Ordinance Committee, moved to lay the ordinance upon the table, and it was adopted—ayes, 17, near 19. 17; noes, 12. SHEA OPPOSED.

It; noes, 12.

Mr. Shea spoke earnestly against the plan as recommended by the committee, and declared that the plan was not fair to his people. In conclusion Mr. Shea moved to recommit the plan Mr. Bottoms for the committee, spoke against the motion to commit, and declared that the plan ought to be adopted here and now.

Mr. Huber submitted a few remarks along the line of changing things so as to leave him in Lee Ward. He offered an amendment with this end in view, and Mr. Mills moved to postpone the entire matter until the next regular meeting. This was defeated, and Mr. Grimes moved to lay Mr. Huber's amendment upon the table, and it was adopted. Mr. Mills moved to change the line between Jefferson Ward and Marshall Ward, so as to run it down Twenty-sixth Street. This was defeated after a strong speech in favor of the plan by Mr. Ellet. The previous question was ordered by a vote of 23 to 8, and the ordinance was adopted. Mr. O'Nell tried to amend by striking out "Henry" and inserting "Jackson" at the name of the new ward, but he was too late.

The roll call on the adoption of the plan

The roll call on the adoption of The plan as adopted divides the city into wards as follows:

The Soldiers' Home was thrown into morning, occasioned by Veteran W. M.

excitement for a short time yesterany morning, occasioned by Veteran W. M. Parker, of Petersburg, striking Commandant A. C. Peny, of the Home, a severe blow in the face with a heavy walking stick.

It will not be until after the Executive Board of the Home has concluded its meeting this afternoon that the real cause of the sharp conflict between these two veterans will be known. The unpleasant affair, which has been the talk of the Home since, occurred at the breakfast table. From what can be learned, Comrade Parker had been instructed to do some work in the nature of preparing vegetables for cooking. He were, and one of his duties was to "strips" beans and do similar work. It is said that Comrade Parker was reluctant to perform this duty; at any rate, he and his superior officer had some sharp words, and Comrade Parker raised his stick and sent it down with great force upon the face of Commandant Peny, bringing blood, This was in the presence of probably two hundred veterans, who had not yet left the breakfast table.

The men clinched at once, and Commander Peay threw Mr. Parker down and was in a fair way to become victorious when a number of veterans interfered to prevent further trouble. The incident naturally threw the messhall into wild excitement, and it was long before quiet was entirely restored. Commandant Peay and Comrade Reese are said to have nearly come to blows later in the day.

Dr. W. A. Dens was called to attend the injuries of Commandant Peay. The physician found the right side of the veteran's face quite severely bruised and lacerated. He and Miss Thompson, the nurse at the Home, dressed the injuries and Mr. Peay attended to his duites the remainment of the day, as usual.

Chairman E. Jeter Bosher, of the Exceutive Board of the Home, has called a meeting of that hody for this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Home. The whole affair will then be investigated and such action as the board deems proper will be taken.
